REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Philadelphia, Pa., July 29.-Another of those almost perfect articles of ball was exhibited at Columbia Park to-day with the result that goose eggs kept pilling up until the seventh inning. Then one break opened such a hole in the base paths that Captain Lave Cross and Murphy scored the only runs of the contest.

Both pitchers banded out nn A No. 1 collection of shoots and curves, and their collection of shoots and curves, and their support was of the kind that made the 4.0% spectators give expression to their emotions in whoops of delight that could be heard a mile away. Because of the fast fielding the twirlers had a somewhat easy time of it at certain stages, for it was the brilliant playing of M. Cross, Murphy and Wallace that kept many would-be base hits from being chalked up.

It was a toss-up between Plank and Howell as to the twirling honors, but "Andsome 'Arry' had his usual hard lock. Each twirler was touched up for only five hits, and each gave only one base on balls. With such pitching as this and wonderful fielding plays being made at frequent intervals the fortunes of the day rested with some fielder who was unfortunate enough to make a break.

PADDEN IS UNLUCKY.

PADDEN IS UNLUCKY.

PADDEN IS UNLUCKY.

The unlucky individual was Padden, the second baseman of the Browns, Padden deserved a curtain lecture by Manager McAler. In the seventh Inning he tried to step a grounder off L. Cross's bat. He fumbled the ball, which dropped right at his feet. Padden was so disgusted at his fumble that, although he even then had a good chance to throw Lave out, he refused to make a move to pick it up until after the Athletics captain was safe at first base. after the Athletics captain was safe at first base.

That started the trouble for the Browns. Seybold made a neat sacrifice and Lave went down to second, and scored when Murphy singled to left. Danny stole second and took third on a single by Powers. Wallace made a great stop of the "Doctor's" hit, but could not recover himself in time to get his man at first. Then Powers took lots of room off first and before he could be run down Murphy crossed the plate.

M. CROSS'S GREAT CATCH.

M. CROSS'S GREAT CATCH.
In the second inning Meate immediate the air after Padden's liner. He could not hold the ball, but he get back to the ground before the horsehide and recovered it with one hand.

Seybold got the first hit of the game in the second, but a fast throw by Heidrick to Padden nailed "Socks" when he tried to stretch the drive into a double.

There was plenty of action in the feurth. After striking out Hemphill and Heidrick. Plank gave Jones a hall to his liking and a single resulted.

Wallace drew four balls, but Padden sent a fly to Seybold. Hartsel opened the tribletics helf of this inning with a drive.

Wallace drew four balls, but Padden sent a fly to Seybold. Hartisel opened the Athletics half of this inning with a drive to left center, for which Burkett made a desperate try, but could not hold. Pickering beat out a bunt and "Topsy" went to third. Davis hit a slow grounder to Padden, but Harisel concluded not to take a chance and remained at third, while Harry was thrown out. L. Cross gave to Hill a foul, but, although the bases were filled, with four balls to Seybold no scoring resulted, for Heidrick pulled down Murphy's fly. Burkett opened the sixth with what looked to be a safe drive to right field.

Murphy, though, got a good start after the ball and, suddenly throwing himself forward, grabbed it with one hand and held it. The play was one of those unexpected ones which fairly took away the breath of the spectators.
